LAST TIME OUT:

Senior forward Brandon Adair totaled 29 points on 13-of-17 shooting from the field to lead eighth-ranked Virginia Wesleyan to a 61-49 victory over Washington and Lee at the Warner Center on Sunday. Virginia Wesleyan led just 15-14 with 9:50 left in the first half, but used an 11-1 run over the next 3:30 to take a 26-15 lead with 6:20 remaining before the break. The Generals cut it back to five points (28-23) at the 3:13 mark, but the Marlins again stretched their lead to 10 points (34-24) at the intermission. The Generals (10-9, 5-8) remained within striking distance for much of the second half, but could get no closer down the stretch than nine points (58-49) with 2:46 left in the game. Freshman forward Zac White led the Generals with a career-high 17 points on 6-of-9 shooting from the floor. Junior forward Greg Bienemann added 14 points and nine rebounds. Adair was joined in double figures for VWC by junior forward Tyler Fantin and junior guard Ton Ton Belenga, who posted 10 points each.

THE SERIES:

W&L and Emory & Henry are meeting for the 88th time, with the Generals holding a 52-36 advantage in the all-time series. W&L snapped a string of eight-straight losses to the Wasps with a 98-96 win earlier this season in Lexington, Va. However, the Generals have not won at the King Center since a 65-62 victory during the 1997-98 season (Eight games). W&L and Hampden-Sydney will be meeting for the 108th time and the Tigers claim a 67-40 series edge. H-SC has won 19-straight in the series, a stretch that dates back to a 44-40 W&L win at Hampden-Sydney during the 1997-98 season. W&L and Lynchburg will be meeting for the 101st time, with the Generals leading the all-time series 69-31. W&L's 69 wins over Lynchburg are tied for the most against any opponent (Bridgewater - 69).

THE HEAD GENERAL:

Adam Hutchinson (Amherst '93) is in his fourth season as the head coach at Washington and Lee. Prior to W&L, Hutchinson coached for two seasons at Case Western Reserve University and two seasons at Stevens Tech. In his eight seasons as a head coach, Hutchinson claims a 56-136 (.292) overall record. Hutchinson is assisted by Sean Grant (NYU '02) and Stuart Pradia (Brandeis '05).

STRONG START = STRONG FINISH:

Washington and Lee is 9-0 this season when it builds a halftime lead. Success in maintaining leads is nothing new as W&L has compiled a 43-23 (.652) record over the past nine years when it leads at the break. W&L has won a total of 58 games during that stretch, meaning that the Generals have led at halftime in nearly 75 percent of their wins in the last nine years.

EXPERIENCE COUNTS:

There are a number of reasons for W&L's six-game improvement from last season, but one that is hard to overlook is experience. Of the players averaging 12.0 minutes or more per game, there are two seniors (Halkitis, White), two juniors (Bienemann, Kusimo) and three sophomores (Goodman, Jones, McHugh). The big difference is among the five freshmen, which W&L has had to rely on for just 271 of 3800 total minutes this year (7.1%). To put this into perspective, consider that W&L's seven freshmen last season played 1819 of 4675 minutes (39%) and the seven freshman in 2004-05 played 2579 of 5000 minutes (52%).

THE METAMORPHOSIS:

Senior guard Chris Halkitis began his career at W&L as a scoring point guard, but with improved talent around him, he has morphed into one of the top distribution artists in the ODAC. During his first three seasons, the 5-foot-10 guard averaged 10.4 points, 2.4 assists and 9.3 shots per game. This season, Halkitis is averaging just 6.0 points on only 4.4 shots per game. However, his assist totals have shot up to 3.3 assists per game and he has the best assist-to-turnover ratio (1.6-1.0) of his career. Halkitis also averages 3.2 rebounds per game and leads the team with 21 steals. Halkitis, who claims 872 career points, dished out a career-high 11 assists against Eastern Mennonite and had set a previous career-high with seven assists against Lynchburg. He also ranks second all-time at W&L with 154 career three-pointers (154-426, .362).

TEN REASONS WHY W&L HAS POSTED DOUBLE-DIGIT WINS:

W&L's 10 wins this season mark the first 10-win season since the 1997-98 campaign. Below are just 10 of the many reasons for the turnaround in the program this season, in no particular order.

- EXPERIENCE - As noted above, the Generals have some experience this season. In addition to not having to play freshman, W&L boasts three seniors, its most since having three for the 1999-2000 season. That year, W&L won nine games and made it to the semifinals of the ODAC Tournament.
- LEADERSHIP - Seniors Chris Halkitis, Alex White and Chris Davis have the most experience on the team and they have provided excellent leadership for the rest of the team. Both Halkitis and White are two-year captains and are at the forefront of the program's turnaround.
- DEPTH - The Generals currently have 16 healthy players on the roster and 11 of them have seen action in 10 games or more.
- BALL-HANDLING - W&L ranks fourth in the ODAC in turnover margin and has 264 assists (13.9 apg) to just 302 turnovers (15.9 topg). Last season, W&L had 284 assists and 450 turnovers for the year. Currently, three starters (Chris Halkitis, Chris McHugh, Kirk Jones) have a positive assist-to-turnover ratio and a fourth player, Alex White, brings a positive ratio off the bench.
- SHOOTING - W&L is currently shooting 47.7 percent from the floor and has shot better than 56 percent from the field in four of the last nine games. The Generals have not shot better than 48 percent from the floor for an entire season since the 1984 season (51.5 %).
- SCORING - Over the past 10 seasons, W&L has consistently ranked among the worst scoring teams in the ODAC. W&L's 69.6 points per game this season still ranks last in the conference, but it is 3.5 points per game better than last year.
- DEFENSE - W&L ranks third in the ODAC in scoring defense, allowing just 67.4 points per game. This total is 8.2 points per game less than the team allowed last season.
- REBOUNDING - W&L holds a +1.8 rebounding margin and is 8-2 this season when out-rebounding an opponent.
- ROAD WINS - W&L is 4-4 on the road this season after posting a 0-21 mark on the road over the previous two seasons. The Generals have not won five road games in a season since the 1997-98 season.
- CHEMISTRY - While chemistry is not a tangible item, all of the above numbers can be used to support the fact that the Generals have become a team.
